ABOUT THE CENTER FOR EMERGING
VISUAL ARTISTS (CFEVA)

Founded in 1983, The Center for Emerging Visual Artists (CFEVA) is a nonprofit institution dedicated to fostering sustainable creative practices for artists in Greater Philadelphia. Conceived as a network of and for artists, CFEVA builds connections between artists and audiences. The organization prioritizes creative risk-taking and elevates new work, helping communities to see our changing world through new perspectives.

CFEVA supports the work of diverse visual artists through exhibitions, events, workshops, a fellowship program, individualized career coaching, and its annual Philadelphia Open Studio Tours (POST). CFEVA endeavors to be open and equitable in support of all artists. Anyone can become an artist member and benefit from its programs. Its exhibitions and events bring the creative process into the public realm, expanding opportunities to discover and connect with artists through city-wide programming and community-building initiatives.

Whether or not you make art, you can be part of our creative community. For more information about our free exhibitions and events, please visit cfeva.org. On Facebook @cfeva or Instagram and Twitter @philacfeva.

CFEVA CELEBRATES A MILESTONE!

The Center for Emerging Visual Artists (CFEVA) is celebrating 40 years of providing artists with the resources they need to develop their artistic practices. CFEVA's Visual Artist Fellowship (VAF) has supported more than 300 artist Fellows & Finalists who have progressed through this core program over the years. We are delighted to highlight their impact and successes as we reflect on this important milestone of our own.

THANK YOU TO OUR 2022-23 FRIENDS OF CFEVA

VISUAL ARTIST FELLOWSHIP

A two-year hatchery of innovation, the Visual Artist Fellowship underscores CFEVA's commitment to fostering artistic excellence and furthers its mission to help visual artists build sustainable careers. Artists are selected by an independent Board of Artistic Advisors based on the merit of their artwork, demonstrated ability to reach stated goals, and a clear vision for the next level in their professional practice. For more information and to apply, visit www.cfeva.org/visual-artist-fellowship

ABOUT THE PHILADELPHIA OPEN STUDIO TOURS (POST)

The Philadelphia Open Studio Tours (POST) is the largest, self-guided, free-to-attend tour of artist studios and creative workspaces in the region, and one of the premier open studio tour events in the country, crossing into over 26 neighborhoods throughout the city for two weekends each October. All artists in the city of Philadelphia are invited to be a part.

Mikel Elam photographed by Justice Dyer.

The Open Studio Tours was founded in 1999 by artists Karen Brown and Ed Bronstein with 13 participating artists that first year. The event took off quickly...it grew organically in those first few years and was managed by a visionary group of volunteers. Beginning in 2005, its growth was taken to a new level when the volunteer committee approached The Center for Emerging Visual Artists (CFEVA) to formally adopt the Open Studio Tours as a program—which fit perfectly with our capacity at the time and the organization's ongoing mission. Since then, CFEVA's staff, leadership, and Board continue to provide extraordinary support to the program and fuel new levels of its advancement throughout the region and the country.

ARTISTS

When you buy a piece of art for yourself or as a gift, from our sale, you are not only donating a portion to CFEVA so that we may continue our work - you are also supporting an artist: a small business owner, a teacher, an entrepreneur. Artists are economic drivers for and active members of our artistic, more livable local community. Thank you!
